

The Grand Jury Makes a Start

(EDITORIAL)

Supervisor West has been stirring up a lot of news and a lot of excitement for a good many weeks back. Today he still is in the news—very much so—except that now the tables are turned and he finds himself for the time being on what might be described as the receiving end rather than the dispensing end of the paddle.

He stands accused by the grand jury in a civil, not a criminal, action on four counts. The first two of these, dealing with the alleged solicitation of bribes, are serious and demand prompt action to determine his guilt or innocence.

Indeed, if the grand jury had sufficient evidence to prove that he did solicit the asserted bribes, it is difficult to understand why he was not indicted on criminal charges.

The other two counts accuse him of such high crimes and misdemeanors as calling the sheriff a dictator, attending a "communist" meeting, voting "no" as a supervisor on a motion to grant the sheriff a big contingent of men and equipment for strike suppression, bringing charges against other officials, and the like. In view of the fact that this is all part of a pending court case, we'll not discuss the merits of these charges at this time; nevertheless we assume that citizens generally, like the jury which is to hear the case, will form a judgment concerning their gravity and soundness.

These charges, the more serious ones and the others alike, the Laguna Beach supervisor vehemently denies. He contends they are the result of perjured testimony hatched by political foes.

Nobody, of course, at this juncture, may properly assume that the accused official is guilty. Nevertheless, as The Journal contended in the case of Police Chief Howard, who is under federal indictment, the public welfare in our opinion would be better served if the official under fire take a leave of absence from office until the accusations are disposed of.

Meanwhile it should not be forgotten that the grand jury is still sitting; that it has many other grave matters under consideration relative to various county officials and departments which call for sweeping investigations.

The eyes of the county are focussed on these grand jurors. Each man and woman on that body is expected to do an honest, fair and thorough job in the interests of the people. A higher standard of public service is the only objective.

The grand jury should carry on.

SKIRVIN

Russ Munro thanks me for printing this item before it appeared. Such faith should not go unrewarded. So he says to "Scotty" Skirvin: Next Saturday night at 6:30 at the Elks club in Anaheim, a bunch of Scots, and others who would like to be, will gather to do the needful in memory of "Rabbi Burns." Haggis will parade again, and together with the pipers, dancers and other talent, we are going to have a "of a night." So old boy, give it the John De Quincy in your Iowa native scribe, minus the doric. The last time I mixed with haggis was through the persuasive influence of Alex Walker, supplemented by John Helmecken, Jimmy Watkins, Walt Young, Alex Brownridge, Bob Brown and some other of the highlanders and lowlanders who insisted that I was insolvent on Scotch custom. I proved to them that I could qualify in some respects, and flunked in others. This Bobby Burns celebration is the annual saga for Scotchmen.

February 2 the Orange County Peace Officers' association will hold an annual meeting in the American Legion hall at Tustin. 7 p. m. John Stanton and Dan Adams will put on a barbecue dinner, and I know enough about that epicurean temptation to endorse it. The meeting comes on prayer meeting night, so I am torn between two opinions. Guess I'll try and make both.

I gave him the surreptitious once over as he was beaming with anticipation. The good friend was on his way home with rake and hoe and other garden-making tools. Why, he was happier than I was on a summer day. I'd like to see him a few weeks later when his garden is giving a banquet for the neighbors' chickens.

Kaiser Happy Over Birthday Anniversary

DOORN, The Netherlands. (P)—Ex-Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany celebrated his 75th birthday today—one of his happiest since he fled to his wood-chopping exile in closing hours of the World war.

He was convinced that the once mighty Hohenzollerns, erstwhile ruling family of Germany, and their counterparts in the British House of Windsor were friends again.

The affectionate signatures, "Bertie, May and Elizabeth," on a telegram from King George VI (Bertie), Queen Mother Mary (May), and Queen Elizabeth spelled for him the healing of the intra-family scar which festered when British and German troops faced each other on the Western front.

Assembly Group Hurls Terrorist Charge At Law

LOS ANGELES. (P)—Already under fire in the Harry Raymond bombing case, Police Captain Earle Kynette's name was injected today into the California assembly's investigation of vice and political corruption in Los Angeles county.

Speaker William Moseley Jones, chairman of the assembly interim coordinating committee of three said as their hearing opened this morning that testimony will be heard on charges of "terroristic" activities instituted by the Los Angeles police two years ago to halt the influx of indigents.

SEA SCOUT BASE PLANS FORMULATED

Committee Named To Start Work

First steps toward formation of the most elaborate Sea Scout base in the country were taken at a meeting of Scout officials and regional executives at Balboa last night.

The base, which would draw hundreds of boys from all Western states, would be in the form of a "school" for the youths, as well as a sports center, it was intimated last night. Headquarters for all Sea Scout ships in Southern California would be offered by the local committee, and an elaborate year-round program would be evolved by Scout leaders.

NIAGARA SPAN DEFEATS ICE

NIAGARA FALLS. (P)—Marked by a slight sag and some twisted girders, Niagara's famed "Honey-moon bridge" stood victor today in a 24-hour battle with the worst ice jam in the Niagara gorge in 39 years.

A shift in wind during the night apparently saved the towering 1200 foot span just when it appeared the thundering tons of ice pouring over the cataract were going to sweep it from its foundations.

Less fortunate but still not damaged beyond repair were the twin steamboats, the "Maid of the Mist," which have carried thousands of tourists up the river to the falls. The rising ice knocked them off their winter dry-docks and against the walls of the gorge.

Premier Acts As Franc Drops

PARIS. (P)—The cabinet today approved Premier Chautemps' draft of a social peace code regulating the relations of capital and labor, as fresh selling assaults weakened the franc.

The premier is to present the proposals to the nation in a radio address tonight.

CALL WITNESSES

Captain Kynette participated in that work. Jones said the testimony would be given by an attorney, John Packard.

The committee, which includes Henry Meehan, Oakland, speaker pro-tempore, and Charles W. Lyon, Los Angeles, Republican floor leader, called more than 100 witnesses.

Among the subjects to be investigated, Jones said, were prostitution, gambling, narcotics, book-making and the numbers racket.

EX-WIFE OF M'ADOO HERE

Eleanor Wilson McAdoo, daughter of the late Woodrow Wilson and former wife of Senator William Gibbs McAdoo, was a witness in Santa Ana justice court yesterday, but her testimony didn't seem to help the friend for whom she testified.

H. H. Riddle was awarded $52 in his suit against J. H. Manwaring, driver of a car in which Mrs. McAdoo was riding when she was involved in a crash at Corona Del Mar last June 13.

Riddle had asked $931.50 for damages and personal injuries received in the accident, and Manwaring asked $900.25 in a cross-complaint.

Mrs. McAdoo came into the court with Manwaring and gave a brief account of the crash in which she sustained minor cuts and bruises.

FOR SHAME, JUDGE!

CAMDEN, N. J. (P)—Judge Joseph A. Varbelow declined to look at a scar on the leg of a woman seeking damages for injuries in an automobile crash. "No I'd better not," he said, "or somebody'll call me a scar-gazer."

Five days of technical testimony, introduction of physical evidence, and the prosecution's demand for the supreme penalty left the immaculately-dressed Wright haggard.

The fanc sagged sharply in unofficial bank trading in the morning, quoted at 30.92 to the dollar, 154.70 to the pound, compared to yesterday's closings of 30.70 and 153.20.

BURKE FRONTS FOR OLSON

J. Frank Burke today was named Southern California campaign manager for State Senator Culbert L. Olson, in his drive for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Olson made the announcement in Los Angeles, verifying reports published in yesterday's Journal that Burke would be at the helm of Olson's political ship.

No announcement has been made of campaign manager for Orange county, although Chester I. Dale, former head of the California Assembly of Democrats here, and now president of the Democratic Club of Orange County, has his hat in the ring.

SENATE KILLS DEBATE LIMIT

WASHINGTON. (P)—The senate killed today a proposal for drastic limitation of debate on the anti-lynching bill, against which southern senators have been filibustering since the session started.

The vote against debate limitation, or cloture, gave new encouragement to the southern bloc that the anti-lynching measure would be shelved.

Imposition of cloture, which would have limited further speech-making against the bill to one hour for each senator, was requested in a petition signed by 17 senators.

Although supporters of the anti-lynching proposal said they would seek to keep it before the senate, opponents were expected to make an effort to sidetrack it soon.

CITY WILL HIRE PLAN CONSULTANT

Three Named as Prospects for Job

The special committee seeking a planning consultant for Santa Ana is considering appointment today of one of three men. R. Deming Tilton, of the Orange county planning commission, is a member of the select trio.

The other two are Dr. Gordon Whitnall, who has had experience as planning consultant for the city of Fresno and Fresno county, and a Mr. Williamson, of Culver City and Alhambra, who was with the Los Angeles planning commission for 17 years.

Mayor Fred Rowland said this morning the field will be narrowed down to one man within the next day or two. The city council will make the appointment on recommendation of the committee, composed of Mayor Fred C. Rowland, Councilmen Joseph Smith and William Penn.

MAY JOIN COUNCIL
The committee is seeking a consultant to handle the problems of this community alone at the present, according to Rowland. At an indefinite time in the future, the city may enter into an agreement with the county for employing a planning consultant to handle Santa Ana's and Orange county's planning problems jointly, he added.

Whitnall, one of the prospects, is a past-president of the California League of Municipalities and is reported to be active in civic affairs.

Tilton, in a talk before the county planning commission yesterday, recommended Whitnall to handle the county planning matters during his absence in the north on state planning affairs.

WEBB TO QUIT ATTORNEY JOB

GRASS VALLEY. (P)—California's veteran attorney general, 74-year-old U. S. Webb, said today he would not seek re-election to the office he has held since 1902.

"My mission has been fulfilled," Webb told the members of the Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce at their annual meeting last night.

"I have had this announcement in mind for a long time, but I withheld it until I got back among my own people."

Webb, a Republican, resigned as district attorney of Plumas county, Sept. 15, 1902, to accept appointment from Governor Gage as attorney general. He was elected in 1934 for the ninth consecutive term.

West will have a lot of leeway when this thing comes to trial. He is accused of making malicious and false statements and accusations.

Charge Based on False Evidence, Says Supervisor

Bluntly denying charges of corrupt misconduct in office and claiming "perjured evidence" may be used against him, Supervisor N. E. West of Laguna Beach today prepared to fight ouster proceedings brought yesterday by the grand jury.

Official circles buzzed with excitement as West, bitter critic of other county officers, was himself blasted by the jury. "There is not an iota of truth," said West, "behind any charges of misconduct in my office, and there is no evidence to support them unless it is perjured evidence."

West must answer the charges, in which he is accused of soliciting two bribes, obstructing justice and making malicious statements against officials, Feb. 11.

He must appear before Superior Judge H. G. Ames on that date to answer or demur to the accusation presented yesterday by the grand jury.

Dist. Atty. W. F. Menton, as legal adviser to the grand jury, may personally prosecute the case, to be tried before a jury in superior court.

A 9-to-3 verdict would be sufficient to convict West on the charge and to remove him from office. The accusation proceedings are similar to a civil suit, as contrasted from an indictment, which is a criminal action.

GENERAL DENIAL
West's brief general denial was made yesterday afternoon after he had been informed by The Journal that the charges had been brought. The action was not unexpected, having been voted 10 days ago by the grand jury and considered for some time before that.

JACKSON TO REPLACE REED

WASHINGTON. (P)—President Roosevelt nominated Robert H. Jackson, of New York, today, to be solicitor general of the United States. He is now assistant attorney general in charge of anti-trust cases.

Jackson will succeed Stanley E. Reed, of Kentucky, who received his commission as a member of the supreme court from the President earlier in the day.

Reed will take his seat on the bench today.

Jackson, whose home is in Jamestown, N. Y., will be 46 on Feb. 13.

As head of the anti-trust section, he was successful in several major prosecutions. One of the most recent was the conviction of 16 oil companies for conspiracy to raise and fix gasoline prices in ten mid-Western states.

FDR Happy Over Birthday Anniversary

WASHINGTON. (P)—Members of President Roosevelt's "Cuff Link club" will be among the 20 guests at his Saturday night birthday party in the White House.

The members will be wearing gold cuff links which Mr. Roosevelt gave them to commemorate their experiences in his vice presidential and presidential campaigns, as well as in the days when he was assistant secretary of the navy.

The President will be 56 Sunday, but he and Mrs. Roosevelt decided to have the birthday dinner the evening before. After the dinner, Mr. Roosevelt will make a brief radio talk in connection with the birthday balls being given all over the nation to raise funds to combat infantile paralysis.

JAPAN CRISIS NEARS AS SENTRY SLAPS U. S. AMBASSADOR AIDE

TOKYO SAID 'SORRY' FOR INCIDENT

John Allison Attacked By Nanking Guard

SHANGHAI. (AP)—Domei (Japanese news agency) reported today that a Japanese sentry slapped the face of John M. Allison, third secretary of the U. S. embassy at Nanking and presently in charge there, when he sought to enter a house despite the sentry's objections.

Domei quoted a military report that Allison, of Lincoln, Neb., entered the Japanese embassy, to which the Japanese objected, to enter, which Allison did not heed. The sentry slapped the American's face and prevented entry into the house.

The report asserted the house was Chinese and held Allison had no right to enter it. The report continued, "According to Domei, the Japanese authorities apologized and were undertaking to reach a settlement locally."

Allison, of Lincoln, Neb., entered the American foreign service as a clerk in the consulate general at Shanghai in 1930, after spending several years as a teacher and in commercial work in China and Japan.

STATE DEPARTMENT AWAITING ALLISON REPORT

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The state department awaited an official report today from Third Secretary John M. Allison at the embassy in Nanking before making any comment on reports that he was slapped in the face by a Japanese sentry.

Officials said they were without information on the incident.

JAPANESE ARE 'SORRY' AGAIN

TOKYO. (AP)—A war office spokesman tonight expressed regret and surprise at Shanghai dispatches reporting a Japanese sentry had slapped John M. Allison, consul in charge of the United States embassy in Nanking.

Asserting the war office had received no information, he added: "I can only say I am very sorry if the report is true." Similar comment was made by the foreign office spokesman.

IRREGULARS HAMPER JAPANESE CAMPAIGN

PEIPING, China. (AP)—China's red legions and peasant irregulars are on the march against Japanese in the vast North China area. Concentrating swiftly, attacking swiftly and dispersing swiftly, they have struck time and again at Japanese communication lines and Japanese garrisons.

Authentic details of this warfare in the frozen northern provinces, where the Chinese-Japanese conflict began, were brought to Japanese-conquered Peiping today by foreigners who arrived from the war areas.

They reported that during January Chinese irregulars along the Peiping-Hankow and Chengtai railroads wiped out small detachments of Japanese troops in at least 20 instances.

Salles of the irregulars interrupted traffic on the Japanese-controlled portion of the Peiping-Hankow line, one of China's main north-south rail arteries, on an average of three times a week.

Japanese garrisons at Tingsien, 100 miles southwest of here, were annihilated on three different occasions.

A Japanese regiment at Chu-yang, mountain town west of Tingsien, suffered losses of 10 per cent under a fierce guerrilla onslaught.

Chinese peasants taking refuge in Peiping from along the Peiping-Hankow railway say life is becoming impossible in many districts. Attacks and counter attacks sweep through helpless villages with both sides killing extensively on suspicion of espionage.

Communists are actively engaged in organizing the Hopen province peasantry. Ten miles back of the railroad they have plastered the countryside with posters saying: "Down with Japan!"

ANIMAL ACT IN BIG CLIMAX

West's charge that the whole thing is a smokescreen will gain him some following. Whether or not that following will be more than offset by his loss of support remains to be seen, but his "clean out the courthouse" plea, which possibly proved another boomerang and clean him out, come November, even if he is successful in his defense.

However it goes, the Phantoms are likely to hear more charges against themselves, once Little Hercules gets into court. And, in turn, West may be surprised at the state's evidence in all its completeness, according to those in the know.

It's going to be a swell trial.

Il Duce Joins In Goose Step Parade of Men

ROME. (AP)—Premier Mussolini, delighted at having taught 10,000 fascist militiamen the German goosestep, today jumped from a reviewing stand and goose stepped behind the parading soldiers.

This was part of preparation for the state visit of Chancellor Hitler next May. Mussolini wanted to parade goose stepping troops in Hitler's honor and today inspected the chosen units after 15 days' training.

He decided they had learned the trick German stride well enough in Hitler's honor, re-named it the "Roman Step" and indicated it may become the regular step for fascist parades.

CHICKEN KILLS WOMAN (Continued from Page 1) The Santa Ana aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles will give its first scream next month.

Visit to Santa Ana yesterday of John W. Heller of York, Pa., grand president of the order, marked completion of plans for the installation of a Santa Ana aerie, first to be formed in Orange county.

Heller while here was the guest of Forrest B. Owen of Costa Mesa, former state president of the order, and of Charles A. Barnhart, organizer in this district for the lodge.

A hall has already been engaged for the aerie's first meeting, and membership started. The state now has 102 chapters.

6 INJURED IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

A wave of accidents that started just before New Year's on Orange county highways continued unbroken yesterday as four more crashes were reported, in addition to two within the Santa Ana city limits.

John James, 37, 609 South Lemon street, Anaheim, was arrested on drunk driving charges by California highway patrolmen after sustaining slight injuries when his car and one driven by William Jennings Thompson, 29, San Diego, sideswiped head-on yesterday afternoon on Manchester boulevard near 101 highway. Thompson also was slightly injured.

Leola Worthington, 19, 715 Spurgeon street, sustained cuts and bruises when her car and one driven by J. W. McCormack, 63, 701 Antutz street, Anaheim, crashed at the intersection of state highway No. 2 and Midway drive near Anaheim at dusk last night.

Three young people were injured when cars driven by Raymond Leo Riggs, 20, 1928 West Seventeenth street, and Dudley Cloy, 45, 115 East Tenth street, Santa Ana, collided in front of the Holly Sugar factory at Newport and Dyer roads last night. Riggs and two companions, Thelma Land, 20, 1928 West Seventeenth street, and Helen Taft, 16, 141 West Walnut street, Orange, were given emergency treatment by Dr. Harry Huffman.

Hitchhiker White, 40, Los Angeles, escaped injury when his car was thrown out of control by a flat tire on Los Funes street north of Huntington Beach early last night.

STATE ENTERS VICE PROBE (Continued from Page 1) agencies in the city and county. A key figure in the assembly committee's action, Jones disclosed, was Clifford E. Clinton, who had conducted an independent vice investigation while a member of the 1937 county grand jury.

Clinton was said to have cooperated with the committee as state prosecutor secretly combed night clubs and other establishments before announcement of the hearing.

KYNETTE DICTATES 'SURRENDER' TERMS LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Capt. Earle Kynette, acting head of the police intelligence unit, played hide and seek with Diet. Atty. Buron Fitts today as Fitts' agents sought to arrest him on a charge of attempted murder in the bombing Jan. 14 of Harry Raymond, private detective.

From his hideout, Kynette sent word through his lawyer that his terms for surrender were a sharp reduction in the $25,000 bond recommended by Fitts. The attorney, John Oliver, said his client intended to remain at liberty, pending his own "personal investigation" of the bombing case, and that Kynette believed he could come in with a solution within two days.

Fitts countered with the declaration he had a statement, taken from a policeman, "that is tantamount to a confession, disclosing details of the bombing."

"I consider this the most important evidence in the case," said Fitts. "Naturally, I am going to keep it secret for presentation to the grand jury when it convenes Feb. 8."

Oliver expressed surprise at Fitts' announcement. He said he represented most of the officers of the police intelligence unit, and knew of no statement being made to Fitts by any of them.

WEST SETS UP PERJURY CRY (Continued from Page 1) ation and notice to appear by Merle Dean, chief criminal deputy sheriff, at 3:20 p. m. yesterday.

"I've been expecting you," smiled the little Laguna Beach supervisor as Dean arrived. "Thanks."

Charges of attempting to obtain two "rewards" for voting to cancel district taxes on subdivision property were made in the accusation, in two separate specifications. A. H. Fanning of Laguna Beach was approached for a $1000 payment, the jury charged, as West said he could promise to save Fanning $5000 if he made the payment.

E. K. Wood of Riverside was solicited for a payment of $200 under similar circumstances, the grand jury charged.

OTHER CHARGES The other two specifications included charges of attempting to obstruct justice during the 1936 citrus strike by publicly denouncing Logan Jackson and other officers and by voting against a supervisory emergency resolution providing the sheriff with extra funds and equipment for use in strike disorder control.

Fourth specification charged that West, in statements signed by him and published in newspapers, made untrue charges against public officials in his recent campaign against a "phantom ring" he claims is ruling the county, and has impaired efficiency of government by his continued charges and the turmoil resulting from them.

ASSOCIATED FARMERS ANNOUNCE FIGHT FOR 'OPEN SHOP'

500 MEET IN ANTI-UNION MOVEMENT

Speaker Scores 'Labor Organization Racket'

The Associated Farmers of Orange county threw the full weight of their membership into the county labor war today, on the side of the open shop.

More than 500 members meeting in Orange Women's clubhouse last night unanimously adopted a resolution pledging support to the county dairy industry in its fight against unionization, and expressing its stand that agriculture demands the right to harvest, the freedom of the highways, and right of men to work.

"Any attack," it said, "On a branch of agriculture is an attack on all agriculture . . . the fruit growers, open field farmers and all other branches of agriculture in Orange county . . . extend full and active support to the dairymen in the determination to maintain their independence from the closed shop and hiring hall."

The resolution was passed by a statement pointing out that the dairy industry has been threatened "by interference with its hay supply," and attempts to force unionization by threatening the industry's distribution.

The strike problem was discussed before the meeting by two speakers, Mrs. Beattie Ochs, executive director of The Neutral Thousands, Los Angeles, and Samuel J. Hume, manager-director of the California Crusaders, San Francisco.

Mrs. Ochs told the meeting of what she termed the "third side to the strike question—women." She predicted an active support among wives of workers, against strikes and militant unionism. She blamed current strike troubles on "radical elements in the unions."

Hume, talking on "The Labor Racket," said the old time thugs, beer barons and kidnapers have turned to the labor organization "racket" as being more profitable and much safer.

He called on the public to step into the breach before our "economic system of private property ownership breaks down, bringing in its wake the breakdown of political and social systems, else 'our rights will be swallowed up in either Fascism or Communism, between which there is nothing to choose'."

Newly elected directors of the Associated Farmers were introduced. They include J. F. Snowden, S. B. Edwards, F. B. Browning, R. J. Baker, L. P. Halderman, Dr. Leeming, H. W. Pierce, Ed Backs, Jack Chenwing, Herbert Bergen, Lawrence Wakeham, C. H. Criste, Jules Markel and George Raymer.

U. S.-Soviet In Prison Deadlock

It was understood the foreign office had not replied to the embassy's note of Jan. 25, insisting for the second time on leave for such an interview, and foreign circles expected embassy officials to insist again that permission be granted without delay. It was believed instructions to that effect had come from Washington.

SCS OUTLINES SOIL PROJECT

Possibility of forming soil conservation districts to replace the present soil conservation projects was outlined to cooperating ranchers in the Aliso creek SCS area last night by Harry Reddick, regional conservator for California and Nevada, whose headquarters are at Santa Paula.

"Many states have passed legislation enabling farmers to form soil conservation districts which are taxable to raise necessary funds," he said at a dinner meeting at El Toro CCC camp.

Such an act was pocket vetoed in California following the last session of the legislature, but the Federated Farm bureau and allied groups are now working on another law to submit next time the lawmakers convene, Reddick reported.

Settlement of the districts provides agronomists, foresters and engineers for giving of advice to individual land owners on their individual problems.

Work of the SCS in the Aliso creek project was explained by Charles W. Wilson, ranger, and J. Lee Woolsey, superintendent of El Toro CCC camp, where the dinner session was held, conducted some of the guests through the camp.

Advance Notice On Sky Sights Issued

The sky is full of portents—but you're going to have a hard time seeing them during February.

Only two planets will be around for you to see. Mars and Saturn will be visible in the early evening in the southwestern sky. Mercury, Venus and Jupiter are too close to the sun for observation in February. What the skies lack in planets during the period, however, will be made up in the number of bright stars, the Griffith observatory reports. There'll be lots of them, with the brightest of them all Sirius.

If Sirius isn't enough, the astronomer can observe, with diligence, Canopus (the brightest), and then in decreasing brilliance, Capella, Arcturus, Rigel, Procyon, Betelgeuse, Aldebaran, Pollux, Spica and Regulus.

Only "Moan" Of Ambulance Left

A siren's wail resounded around the courthouse today, and jurors, spectators, attorneys and Superior Judge H. G. Ames cocked attentive ears.

The siren, only thing salvaged from a county ambulance which was wrecked and burned last June 10 at First street and Verano road, was being tested for audibility and length of its "moan."

Eoy Head, owner of a service station demolished in the crash and blaze, is suing the county and Charles C. Wilson, driver of a car which collided with the ambulance, for $15,000 damages. Court was adjourned briefly this morning so the jury could do its own deciding on whether or not other drivers could have heard the siren.

Gold production in South Africa in July made a new high record of 996,545 ounces.

Give Other Fellow Credit

By DALE CARNEGIE

Several years ago, I went duck hunting in the great plains of Eastern Hungary—not far from the Russian border. There was a huge artificial lake in the plains which had been built by Russian soldiers in Hungary during the World war.

Wild geese and ducks fly down from Norway, Sweden and Lapland and, like rich American tourists, they spend the winter in Egypt. Huge flocks break their journey by lighting on this artificial lake.

I had a Hungarian scientist with me on this trip. I was a rank amateur, but he was an excellent shot. However, we left the lake that night without any game and started walking toward the nearest railroad station.

We both knelt and fired as the flock passed over us. Down came one big goose. My friend, the scientist, started me by saying that I had killed the goose. He was so enthusiastic about it that he convinced me for the time being, but the next day when I thought it over, I realized that he couldn't possibly know who killed the goose and the chances were 99 to 100 that he was responsible.

Here's the point of the story! He most assuredly shot the goose. But I was his guest; he wanted to make me feel important. He got a double pleasure out of the incident; giving me credit, and seeing me rejoice over my goose.

This happened about 12 years ago. It taught me a lesson that I hope I shall never forget; it taught me to give other people credit for what they accomplish, and if there is any question about the accomplishment, to give the other man the benefit of the doubt.

If you want to get ahead in business, you can do so by giving your associates credit for their good ideas. On the other hand, if you want their ill will, never give credit to any of them, but claim everything for yourself.

Here is a good rule: If there is any doubt about what kills the goose, congratulate the other fellow upon his splendid marksmanship.

In the last daily column that Mark Hellinger wrote before going out to Hollywood, he put down something that should be molded in bronze:

"The guy with the swelled head is liked by only two persons in the world: By himself and the tombstone manufacturer."

What a pleasure work is! Voltaire, the great French writer and philosopher, set down these words when he was 82 years old:

"The further I advance along life's pathway, the more I find work a necessity."

Michelangelo, who painted the most famous picture in all the world (the Last Judgment) worked until two days before he died. If he had lived ten months more he would have been 90 years old.

STAR CELLIST TO APPEAR AT CONCERT

Edward Burns, talented local cellist, will appear as the featured artist on the Federal symphony orchestra concert Thursday evening, Feb. 3, at the high school auditorium. Tickets at popular prices will go on sale the night of the performance. Reservations may be secured through the project office, 431 W. Third street.

Burns has selected a cello arrangement of the celebrated Hebraic chant, "Kol Nidrei." The title of the composition is the first words of an ancient Jewish prayer. On the eve of the solemn Day of Atonement, the cantor chants the Aramic prayer beginning with Kol Nidrei. The chant holds significance in the hearts of Jews throughout the world as a portion of the ark of the covenant ceremonies.

Ranging from the majestic "Symphony No. 1 in C Minor," by Brahms, to Chabrier's rhythmic "Espana Rhapsody," the 50-piece orchestra will present another outstanding program in the mid-winter concert series, according to Ardeth Cox Bergsied, Leon Eckles will conduct. The program will close with "Der Freischutz Overture."

PROVIDING FOR THE PRESENT

PLANNING FOR THE FUTURE

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA EDISON COMPANY LTD.

Yesterday Nearly forty years ago the solid foundation of the Edison Company was laid, with the erection of the first tri-phase hydro-electric plant in the United States. Each year since has seen some major development in the system-facilities to meet almost any demand for power . . . a sound financial structure and a loyal organization. Equally important was the experience and knowledge gained, which has brought the service to its present high standard efficiency.

TODAY In physical equipment . . . in the confidence of 108,000 shareholders . . . in the cooperation of 4000 employees and 500,000 consumers . . . in the goodwill of the community . . . this company, composed of employees, investors and consumers, has won through to its present position by serving faithfully and well. Throughout ten counties of Central and Southern California, it is a definite and vital part of the social and industrial life of the people—contributing to their health, their comfort and their prosperity.

TOMORROW Great as were the accomplishments of the past—the future promises even greater. California's Electrical Age has just begun. New uses for electricity in the home, on the farm and in the factory are constantly being developed. The responsibility of providing an adequate amount of electrical power to meet every new demand will be met. A consciousness of this responsibility directs our every effort, not alone to meet the requirements of the present, but to anticipate the needs of the future.

Basketball fans of the two schools are all steamed up over that Tustin-Garden Grove High school game that may decide the Orange league championship out at Tustin tomorrow night.

Numerous Santa Anans followed Big Bill Cole's Tilters last year when Tustin fought its way to the Southern California title, and many local fans may be out at Tustin tomorrow inasmuch as both Santa Ana's Saints and Dons will be playing at San Bernardino.

Garden Grove, unbeaten after two league starts (Brookland 26-22 and Valencia 26-16), will be sitting pretty provided the Argonauts eliminate Tustin. Chet Coates, brother of the nightball star, Jim Coates, is the club's sparkplug at forward. His running mate is Merle Hapes, brother of Ray Hapes of the University of Mississippi. They are the only two regulars who will be lost to Coach John Ward through graduation. Lloyd LeClair, six-foot center, and Art Berry and Roy Hudson, guards who are adept at getting the ball off the backboard, round out the first-string which Garden Grove hopes will snap Tustin's long winning streak in league competition.

Tustin, with three regulars from its Southern California championship outfit of last season, has defeated Valencia, 35-15, and Laguna Beach, 24-6. Cole will depend upon his usual lineup of Larry Monroy and Vic Linker, forwards; Ev Winkler, center; Joe Kersey and Walt Linker, guards. The Linker brothers and Monroy teamed with the sensational Francis brothers—Sammy and Paul—last year.

Fishing is an expensive sport in California, according to figures compiled by Frank Bell, U. S. commissioner of fisheries. He has found the average angler spends $116.80 a year, exclusive of traveling and living expenses on his trips.

Gil Kuhn, the Placentia-Fullerton product who captained and centered for the Trojans two years ago, will play in a charity football game at Wrigley field Sunday.

BUDGE DEFEATS ADRIAN QUIST

ADELAIDE, Australia. (AP)—Don Budge, red-headed American and Wimbledon tennis champion, entered the finals today in the Australian championships by trouncing Adrian Quist of Australia, 6-4, 6-2, 8-6.

Jack Bromwich, ambidextrous young Australian Davis Cup player, easily disposed of the German ace, Baron Gottfried von Cramm, 6-3, 7-5, 6-1 in the men's singles semi-final.

Young DiMaggio Has Operation

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Dominic DiMaggio, youngest of the three baseball-playing DiMaggio brothers, was scheduled to be operated upon today for removal of a small bone in the instep of his right foot. The San Francisco Seals' outfielder fractured the bone sliding into second base last season.

Girls' Match on Wrestling Card Tonight

MARTINEZ VS. MORTENSEN AT 101 CLUB

Clara Mortensen, the blonde glamour girl of the wrestling world, whose appearances throughout the United States and Canada the past year and a half, have broken attendance records, is the box-office lure tonight at the Orange County Athletic club.

Starting where she left off last year, La Mortensen steps back into the California wrestling spotlight in a one fall to a finish encounter with the Rose of Calixico, Rita Martinez.

Fresh from a campaign throughout the east, and in Southern California waiting to be cast in a motion picture, Miss Mortensen decided to accept several offers meanwhile so tonight she swings into action in the special attraction of a four-bout program at the Highway 101 arena.

An attractive blonde, Miss Mortensen's speed, knowledge of science and leverage are the envy of many topnotch male wrestlers. Rita Martinez is Miss Mortensen's foremost rival. Although science is the thing with the pair, they resort to hair-pulling and other tactics used by men.

Two three-fall matches and a one-fall to a finish bout is in support, with the Black Dragon, mystery man who has won over

Champion Duke Chick, king of the junior heavyweights, and without a peer in the use of the spectacular "airplane spin," has signed to meet the winner.

Al Westcott, powerful Honolulu grappler, who won his spurs last week, faces the Mexican champion, Felipe Romano, undefeated in three starts, in the first three-fall match while the opener shows Ernie Piluso, called the "Nick Lutz" of the junior heavyweights, against Pete Belcastro. The first bout gets under way promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

It had previously been reported that the new club would hold a short training session at San Bernardino.

Bill de Correvont Ends Great Prep Career Tomorrow

CHICAGO. (AP)—Bill de Correvont, blonde bullet of the gridiron, steps into a new sphere tomorrow that may lead to ever-lasting gridiron fame.

This 19-year-old youth will be graduated from Austin High school after an amazing gridiron career that made him the outstanding prep player of the nation. His feats include nine touchdowns in one game, in ten attempts, one or more touchdowns in every game in which he has played and more than 200 points in registering 35 touchdowns.

After a couple weeks of loafing De Correvont plans to settle down to work until the time he enters the university of his choice for an intercollegiate career next fall. He has been offered no less than 25 jobs for immediate employment.

TUSTIN MAN SHOOT 179 IN FLORIDA

Sam Nau, Tustin rancher and sportsman, was in a three-way deadlock today for top honors in the Class C division of the Daytona Beach, Fla., baby grand trapshoot.

A three-way shoot-off was scheduled today, following Nau's feat in breaking 179 out of 200 targets in the opening event of the Florida shoot yesterday.

The Tustin man tied R. C. Coffey of Orlando, Fla., and William Souba of Minneapolis, Minn.

Suhr Leading Holdout of Pirate Nine

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Pittsburgh Pirates all over the country are hollering because of unsatisfactory salary terms for the 1938 baseball season, but the man who probably has the biggest squawk of all coming has decided to play a "watchful waiting" game.

Gus Suhr, first baseman and team captain, which automatically casts him into the added role of inspirational leader, wasn't favored with a wage boost or even an offer of the same money as paid last season. The management performed a major operation on his contract.

Mr. William Bensawanger, president of the Pirates, received Suhr's contract by return mail, unsigned. The lack of a signature speaks volumes. It is an old Suhr custom. He lets the records speak for themselves.

Suhr's argument as to why he should receive at least as much as he was paid last season is that for the last several years he has led the club in runs batted in.

SEABISCUIT'S 132 TO KEEP ACE IN STALL?

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Weights were out today for the running of the $5000 added San Pasqual handicap Saturday at Santa Anita park, and Seabiscuit topped the list with 132 pounds.

Turf observers felt positive that when the candidates' names came through the entry box the day before the race, the 'Biscuit would be missing.

Owner Charles S. Howard has refused to start his handicap money winner with an assignment heavier than the 130 pounds he was handed for the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap March 5.

Ligaroti, holder of the Argentine mile record, down at 126 pounds, also seems unlikely to go postward, mainly because his handlers are still training him to break from the American style of starting gate and fear a large field Saturday might hamper his efforts.

Pompon, Jerome Loucheim's runner-up to War Admiral in the Kentucky Derby and winner of the Suburban handicap last year, seems to be the most likely candidate for the big handicap to go postward this week-end. He is in at 124.

DONS INVADE SAN BERDOO

Paired for the third consecutive week with one of the Eastern conference's undefeated basketball clubs, Santa Ana Junior college's Dons cagers travel to San Bernardino tonight seeking their first league win at 8 o'clock.

Coach Blanchard Beatty looks for improved floorwork and more accurate shooting from his Dons regulars. He has also arranged a defense for Capt. Chet Katzka, high-scoring Indian forward, who led San Bernardino to a close win over Pomona last week.

Cy Leivermann, who guarded Bob Doll of Chaffey last week, will be assigned to watch Katzka, who was scoring champion last year. Ted DeVellis and Charles Hall will be at forward with Del Holan, Lynn Arnett, Ken Marshall and Verne Rutledge alternating at guard for the Dons.

Chaffey squares off with Fullerton at Ontario tomorrow night which will throw one of them out of the undefeated ranks. Riverside travels to Azusa to play Citrus in the other contest.

Al's, Irvine, Gas Co. Fives Score at 'Y'

Irvine and Al's Lock and Key Shop basketball clubs ran true to form in winning their games last night, but the surprise upset came when Southern Counties Gas company's club rolled up a 36-26 victory over the strong Pennhall's of Westminster quintet on the Y. M. C. A. floor.

Pennhall's held the lead at the half, 19-18, but failed to stop Reafsnider of the gas team, who netted 10 field goals and one free throw for 21 points.

Irvine disposed of Montgomery Ward's cagers, 42-31, with Al's club marked up a 42-25 win over Barr Lumber company, with the victories keeping intact their second-half perfect records.

SAINTS STOP GROVE FIVE

Polishing their attack for a Citrus Belt league game at San Bernardino Friday night, Coach Joe Koegler's Santa Ana Saints defeated Garden Grove's preps, 32 to 15, in an abbreviated basketball game here yesterday.

The contest was divided into three periods instead of the customary four quarters, with Forward Pete Partida leading Santa Ana's assault with 12 points. Lanky Melvin Barron tossed in eight points.

My operatives at the track don't like short prices, anyway, and the kind of horses that paid short prices yesterday have them still gnashing and dithering. Neither the Phantom or Deep Sea Danny will admit that they ran to form in most of those whirlwinds yesterday and after looking over the charts I'm inclined to agree with them. So let's forget it and start in today on the—

First ... Several in here we know are good and some others that are undercover. On the surface it looks like HEEL IN to beat LIKELY LAD and DOUBLE TALK for a long shot bet.

Second ... Maybe you know how to pronounce QUEL JEU and maybe you don't, but try to make the man back of the wicket understand that you want to bet him. Nothing in the race to trouble him but FORT SPRINGS and GALMICA.

Third ... They've been missing with PHLOX but I'm betting the jinx is off today. And in spite of everything ORRA insists on popping up in the arithmetic. PRINCE PEST is a pretty tough old racing tool and that Irwin outfit is more than a bit skillful at handling such implements.

Fifth ... I got this one out of reading detective stories instead of form charts, but don't let that tighten the number on your bank roll. SWEET MYSTERY is the nag and I think it will beat BEST NEWS and YOUNG AGNES on both track and tote board.

Sixth ... Boeing Entry LITHOROME and ROYAL FEIST could run one-two. The word has been going around on OVER YONDER and WEGOWAY won't let them have it without an argument.

Contract Slated For Three Years

Gerald Allen (Tex) Oliver, University of Arizona mentor who coached for seven years at Santa Ana High school, late last night was appointed head football coach at the University of Oregon to succeed Prince Callison, resigned. Oliver was granted a three-year contract at a salary of $3000 a year, marking the first time in recent years that a coach has received more than a one-year contract at Oregon.

The Oregon athletic board announced Oliver would report for duty in time for spring practice in March. Oliver broke into intercollegiate football as coach at Arizona five years ago, after ending a seven-year reign at Santa Ana High school in 1933. While here, he developed a Southern California championship eleven in 1931 and a Coast Preparatory league championship team that reached the C. I. F. finals in '32.

He came to Santa Ana from San Diego High school, where he served four years as coach of varsity track and Class B football. Oliver, whose Arizona eleven defeated Oregon 20-6 in December, played football at West Point under Capt. John J. McEwan, former Oregon coach. He studied at Stanford and received his bachelor of arts degree at U. S. C. where he gained Phi Beta Kappa honors. Others in line for the appointment were James Bradshaw, Fresno State; Ted Bank, University of Idaho; and Gene Shields, Oregon line coach.

C. V. Boyer, president of Oregon university, said Oliver's selection was satisfactory. He will recommend approval by Chancellor Frederick Hunter and the state board of higher education.

OLIVER AWAITING OFFICIAL OFFER

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—G. A. (Tex) Oliver, University of Arizona football coach, said today he had not been officially notified of his appointment as coach at the University of Oregon and had not signed a contract.

"All I know is what the papers tell me," Oliver said. "The Oregon board of athletics hasn't notified me of its decision." He insisted that until he received Oregon's offer, he would have "no occasion to make up my mind" about leaving Arizona.

"It will be hard to leave my friends here," Oliver said. "I have made many good ones in the five years I have been in Arizona."

NEW YORK. (AP)—That roar of wage you hear from Hollywood is not Leo, the lion, doing his stuff in the movies, but merely that skootin', shootin' movie cowboy, Lou Gehrig, who has just read his 1938 contract. But don't get alarmed—Mein Herr has roared that way before. (Unofficial reports from the coast say the figngers are the same as last year's—which is Ed Barrow's idea of a starter.) ... How come Pomona is the new favorite for the Santa Anita handicap? ... What happened to Seabiscuit? ... By the way, Virginia Poly wants to be known as Virginia Tech from now on.

Despite all that stuff you read in history about the blue-eyed Vikings, etc., Sonja Henie is a brown-eyed baby. A year ago, with the firing of Hunk Anderson still boiling, only nine men reported for spring football practice at North Carolina State. ... Yesterday 67 turned out, which may well be written in the records as tribute to Coach Doc Newton, who turned in one of the best coaching jobs in the country last year. ... Marshall Goldberg (who still has another year at Pitt) has had no less than half a dozen coaching offers. ... His popper, the more or less illustrious Sol, doesn't know whether to tell "Biggie" to take one of 'em or go into business. ... What do you say? ... Address Sol Goldberg, Elkins, W. Va.

BANK OPENS NEW TRUST DEPARTMENT

The public is invited by officers and employees of the First National bank trust department to attend the opening of the new quarters in the second floor of the First National Bank building from 1 to 6 o'clock this afternoon.

Since the old First National bank was authorized to do trust business in 1924, through permission of the state and the federal reserve board at Washington, D. C., the department here has enjoyed a rapid growth. Trust assets now amount to $10,000,000.

The department acts as executor, administrator, trustee, transfer agent, registrar and custodian for hundreds of individuals and firms in Orange county.

The department has the latest accounting equipment and modern method of reviews and investment procedure. All major problems, including purchase and sale of assets, are passed upon by a committee of senior officers. L. S. Mortensen and C. L. Pritchard, trust officers, say the quarters recently provided in the new location are comparable with any in the state. A specially selected staff of men and women are in charge of the office.

Assisting Mortensen and Pritchard are C. C. Blakemore, head of the accounting department, federal and estate taxes and other administrative problems. D. C. Hamilton is in charge of the property tax, real property and other problems of administration.

Bumpy Highway Saves Girl From Operation

DRESDEN, Tenn. (AP)—A metal pencil clip lodged in the throat of 12-year-old Elaine Bradberry, threatening her with death by suffocation.

Physicians, unable to remove the clip, ordered the girl brought by automobile to a Memphis hospital.

It was a bumpy highway. Vibrations of the car dislodged the clip. Physicians said today Elaine would suffer no ill effects.

Man Lost 3 Weeks In Arctic Found

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The coast guard reported yesterday the finding alive of Wesley E. Goss, missing Alaskan motion picture exhibitor, on Pavalof Bay.

A radio message from the Cutter Spencer said that Goss, missing since Jan. 2, was suffering from exposure. His partner, Frederick Nelson, 58, was dead.

The men became lost in a whale boat while going from Naknet on Bristol Bay to Unga in the Shumagin Islands.

Many Florida cities offer free open-air concerts to their winter visitors.

Playing-Managers Becoming Scarce in Major Leagues

NEW YORK. (AP)—You're going to find the playing-manager as scarce as the hair on a bald head when this season rolls around.

Old pop time has just about completed a mop-up campaign that will leave only one, Joe Cronin of Boston's Red Sox, still doing regular business at the old stand. It's going to be far different from the last few years, when more than half the dugouts in the big leagues were bossed by managers doubling as stars in the cast.

They'll be saying goodbye for keeps to the greatest right-hand hitter of his day, Rogers Hornsby, who won't even be in a big league park, and two of the classiest of modern third basemen, Pie Traynor and Jimmy Dykes.

Traynor, particularly, won't even be on the Pirates' roster except as manager. He's definitely decided that he's all through, and will rest on the 319 batting average and the smooth fielding record he compiled in his 16-year career. Dykes will make up his mind after a spring training workout whether he'll get into action for his 21st season, but it's highly unlikely, since he now has Marv Owen to handle the hot corner for his White Sox.

Altogether, six of the nine players who were on the active player list last year, including both Hornsby and Pie Traynor, will be missing from the playing rosters for 1938. And two of the other three probably won't see enough action to warrant getting into the box score.

This group, incidentally, represents some of the most valuable playing ivory of the modern school. Seven of the nine hit for well above .300 in careers stretching from 11 to 22 years. Altogether, they make up an infield and catching department that reads like a "dream team." For instance, there would be Bill Terry or Bottomley on first; Hornsby or Pie Traynor on second; Pie Traynor or Bottomley on third, with a catching department of Mickey Cochrane and Jimmy Wilson.

NEWS OF ORANGE COUNTY COMMUNITIES

GROWERS IN ORANGE HEAR OF PROFITS

House Manager Hits Citrus X-Ray Machine

ORANGE. — Total returns of $627,517 were announced by the Orange Mutual Citrus association at their annual meeting here today in the Woman's clubhouse.

Of this crop, 342,022 boxes of Valencia oranges were picked and sold for a net average of $1.25 per box. In all, 1892 boxes of navel oranges were picked and sold for an average of 73 cents per box. Boxes of lemons picked were 42,622, and sold for $1.46 per average. Grapefruit totaled 729 boxes and brought $1.20 per box. Cars shipped totaled 341.

MANAGER REPORTS

In making his annual report Manager L. F. Finley stated the association has enjoyed an increase in membership and acreage. Today's membership is 204, controlling 2736 acres of citrus, he said. The house expects to pack not less than 900 cars of fruit this season, Finley added.

Prior to the severe freeze last year the estimated shipments were above those of the previous year, but the freeze reduced the marketable crop by approximately 50 per cent for Valencia and that of lemons about 85 per cent, the manager explained.

HITS X-RAY

Expense of the fluoroscope or X-ray machine did not, in the opinion of the manager, justify the investment, as it often presented a picture not sufficiently clean to enable operators to determine extent of damage. He stated he believed more merchantable fruit was sacrificed through the use of the machines than by any other method of handling.

Rapidly increasing production of citrus fruits coupled with a limited buying power is producing many problems in the field of distribution and marketing, he continued. It is too early at this time to make a prediction of the percentage of the current crop that can be placed to advantage in the foreign markets, he stated.

President J. F. Snowden presided at the meeting which followed a noon dinner. Other speakers included Bruce McDaniell, M. O. D., general manager of Redlands; H. L. Thomason, growers' service department, and A. Isham, manager of the field department.

TOWNSEND NEWS, VIEWS

By WALTER R. KOBB

The Buena Park club No. 1 is meeting tonight at 7:30 in the Woman's club building at Eleventh and Grand for a business meeting. A letter from Mrs. F. B. Parks, corresponding secretary of the club, says the newly elected officers will be in charge tonight. Albert Palmer is the new president; Mrs. C. W. Wahl, vice president; Mrs. Florence B. Parks, secretary; and Mrs. Henrietta Schurman, treasurer. Mrs. Parks writes that a number from Buena Park attended the La Habra club No. 1 meeting last Monday evening, taking in the pot-luck dinner at 6:30 and staying to hear Julia A. Sharp of Long Beach deliver a real Townsend speech during the Townsend meeting that followed. Mrs. Parks sent in her subscription to The Journal with her letter and so will keep posted to Townsend's happenings through this column.

Judge George D. Higgins is the speaker for Santa Ana club No. 3 which meets in Townsend hall at 509 West Fourth street at 7:30 tonight. Phillip S. Doolittle, president, will preside and introduce Judge Higgins. He is very popular with Orange county Townsends and will doubtless be greeted by a splendid audience.

Walter R. Kobb of Santa Ana will address the Huntington Beach Townsend club No. 1 in the meeting being held in Memorial hall on Sixth street at 7:30 tonight. A. D. Marshall, president, writes that the club's newly elected officers will be installed with a fitting ceremony. The public is invited to all Townsend meetings including this one.

The report comes that Santa Ana club No. 9 has re-elected C. A. Holloway as its president; J. T. Phillips, vice president, and Mrs. J. T. Phillips, secretary and treasurer. This club meets every other Thursday evening in the Edison school on East St. Gertrude street. The next meeting will be held on Feb. 3 when Walter R. Kobb will be present to install the newly elected officers and address the club on the Townsend plan.

Every Townsendside should keep in mind the big Townsend mass meeting which is to be held next Saturday night at 7:30 in Santa Ana Townsend hall at 509 West Fourth street, when Judge M. C. Earl Lentz, 1325 Grace street, Santa Ana, connected with the city clerk's office but better known among the Townsendsides as a member of the popular Hurl-Lentz orchestra, left Monday evening for Chicago and points nearby, expecting to be gone approximately 10 days. The purpose of the trip was to pay a visit to Mr. Lentz's mother who lives near Chicago and whom he has not visited for seven years. The Townsendsides will be glad to know that Mr. Lentz is being privileged to renew the ties of affection that always exist between a true son and his mother. The Hurl-Lentz orchestra furnished music Tuesday evening for the Townsend meeting and Earl is being en route by train to the windy city.

Charles Cowan is the new president; Mrs. Etta Tead, secretary; and Mrs. Sophia Olsen, treasurer. The public will be welcome.

Summers will deliver his lecture entitled "Money in Jail." Whether you believe in the Townsend plan or not you should plan to hear this discourse on the causes of our depression and how the nation can again enjoy prosperity. Santa Ana club No. 10 is sponsoring the meeting but the clubs and their membership of the whole county will participate in the affair. Edith L. Paul is president of this club and announces that there will be no meeting of the club tomorrow night but the meeting Saturday night is being held in lieu of the meeting usually held on Friday nights.

Grant Henderson, president of Santa Ana club No. 11, writes that the club will meet at 7:30 tomorrow night in the Franklin school at 1512 West Fourth street. An entertainment program will be offered and a business meeting will be conducted. Mr. Henderson says, "An open forum will be conducted, spending a part of the evening discussing the duties of standing committees." The public and other Townsendsides are all ways welcome at club No. 11 says his lentz.

SCANDAL BRIDE

CHAPTER 18

"I hate to worry you, Merrie," Curt began, twisting the stem of a cocktail glass between nervous fingers, "but I think that fellow Blanchard is at the bottom of the whole thing. What do you know about him?"

She wanted to say, "I know that I love him. That's enough for me." But she only shook her head.

Curt went on, "I haven't a doubt that the thugs were in his house. He knew where you were, waiting for you. I'd tip off the police if I were you."

She told them of the missing car, and it seemed to prove Curt's theory. "Sure. Can't you see it? He was watching every move you made yesterday."

"I'll wager 10 to 1 that your car was gone within five minutes of the time you left it. What did the doorman say?"

She told them how a man had come for the keys, how he had said that Miss Drake had called the garage.

"Plain as day," Curt snorted. "Blanchard is hand in glove with a gang of criminals. He's probably the leader."

By instilling suspicion in Merrie's mind he was doing away with an obstacle in his own path.

"I don't believe a word of it," she said stoutly. "I'll admit I don't know Jim Blanchard very well, but he's no thug, you can be sure of that."

"He's the brains—mark my word."

Peachy broke in. "Let's stop talking about hold-ups and dirty words," she said. "The subject makes me nervous. I want to tell Merrie about the wonderful piece of luck I had today."

"And when she says luck she means luck," Curt added.

"Really?" Merrie asked, trying to be interested.

Peachy untied the box she carried. It bore the name of a well-known jeweler. On a satin bed lay an amber bracelet, square stones held together with dull silver links.

"Oh," said Merrie, not much impressed.

"They don't look like so much, do they?" Peachy inquired. "Well, wait till I tell you about them. I saw the bracelet in a pawn shop window and admired the color."

"My brown velvet dress simply demands a touch of amber. The price was $25, and I hesitated a long time."

"That's a lot of money to me, you know," she smiled as if not expecting Merrie to understand. "Finally I bought it."

"Twenty-five dollars?" Merrie repeated. "Isn't that a lot for an amber bracelet? I'm sure I've seen them—"

A MUSEUM PIECE

"Yes, but look at the delicious color," Peachy laid the bracelet across her wrist. "See how the stones catch the light?"

Merrie looked at the bracelet with a critical eye. "It is lovely," Merrie agreed politely.

"Wait till you hear the next chapter," Curt put in enthusiastically.

"Yes, the clasp was broken, and I took it to the jeweler's to be mended. Today I went back to get it—and Merrie, you won't believe me—that bracelet belonged to the Empress Josephine."

"It is a museum piece, valued at—what do you think?"

Merrie had reached for the bracelet. "A museum piece—my gracious! I can't imagine—what is it worth?"

"Forty thousand dollars," Peachy whispered the amount.

"The jeweler offered me $40,000," and you didn't take it? But, Gwen—that's a fortune," Merrie took the bracelet to the light.

"How can they tell who owned it?"

Peachy followed her to the window, after a significant nod at Curt. "See that tiny mark on each stone? That mark is on everything the Empress Josephine owned."

Merrie looked at the bracelet. "A museum piece—my gracious! I can't imagine—what is it worth?"

"Forty thousand dollars," Peachy whispered the amount.

Merrie looked at the bracelet. "A museum piece—my gracious! I can't imagine—what is it worth?"

"Forty thousand dollars," Peachy whispered the amount.

"The jeweler offered me $40,000," and you didn't take it? But, Gwen—that's a fortune," Merrie took the bracelet to the light.

"How can they tell who owned it?"

Peachy followed her to the window, after a significant nod at Curt. "See that tiny mark on each stone? That mark is on everything the Empress Josephine owned."

COUNTY RETAIL SALES TOTAL $50,000,000

PROMISE AID FOR NEEDY
FARMERS

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—A brighter side in the picture of starvation and death attributed to portions of Tulare county came to light today with an announcement by the Farm Security administration that $150,000 would be available immediately for "modified farm families from other states."

Dr. Omer Mills, regional economist for the administration, said two children were dying daily in Tulare county, and that disease incident to undernourishment had been found in 27 of 30 children examined in the Farmersville district.

Aid, he said, would be given families unable to qualify under state and county relief statutes. He said the administration rehabilitation offices and two camps for migratory farm workers in the south San Joaquin valley would provide a nucleus for an administrative organization to distribute aid.

Dr. Mills said 90 per cent of mortality in Tulare county was among children. He described one squatters' camp as made up of "dirty, torn tents and makeshift shacks in a sea of mud." He said he found one family of nine children with scant food and with the youngest child dressed in a flour sack.

Dr. Mills said funds were limited but that more federal money would be made available if necessary to remedy conditions.

DRUMM NAMED
SHRINE HEAD

Judge Frank C. Drumm will direct activities for the Orange County Shrine club during the coming year, while Carlyle Dennis will record the official transactions. Several hundred Shriners, guests and visitors, gathered at the Kat Kat last night to transact business, enjoy a banquet and make merry as a prelude to coming ceremonies and conventions.

Otto Evans, of Fullerton, retiring president of the Orange County Shrine club, summarized the year's activities. Joe Pengilly, president of Al Malaikah Temple, Los Angeles, extended felicitations and also invitation for Orange county Shriners to participate in Shrine affairs. Recorder George Ramsey, of Al Malaikah Temple, was introduced.

The grand finale was a six act vaudeville program by professional talent, brought from Los Angeles entertainment sources.

He was sentenced to an indeterminate term in San Quentin prison by Superior Judge Martin I. Welsh for escaping from the Sacramento county road camp several weeks ago.

Whittenez said he never received more than 60 days in jail on previous arrests for petty thefts, vagrancy and begging.

Sport on Wheels

—By MILLARD
BROWNE

To the blaring rhythm of assorted waltzes and fox-trots, several hundred feet—ranging in size from one to 13-go 'round and 'round every night and some afternoons on a big hardwood floor at Fourth and Van Ness streets.

More and more feet are going 'round each night as the revival of a lost art—roller skating—gains headway at Santa Ana Skating rink. The fad is coming back fast, but it's an indoor sport now, not such a hazardous sidewalk game as it once was.

The local skating rink, now a year-around proposition, has been going three years, but only in the past 12 months has it capitalized on the fact that has put thousands of Santa Anans, with ages running from three to 80, on wheels.

Though bulk of the rink's customers are youngsters, skating's not necessarily a kid's game. Middle-aged persons, both men and women, turn out quite consistently, sometimes "show up" the youngsters. One 68-year-old citizen turns out every Monday, has the time of his life and hasn't "flopped" since he started it.

School pupils represent 80 per cent of the business, come as couples, "stag" parties or alone. Tuesday, Friday and Saturday nights are favorites for skating dates, and the rink resembles (and competes with) dance halls on these nights, when a lighted sign tells customers the skate is "gents' tag," "couples only," "trio skating," "ladies only," or some other specialty.

Majority of patrons have skated at some time in their lives, but many haven't been on wheels for 10 or 20 years. The lay is no handicap though, points out S. D. Byrd, rink proprietor, because skating is like swimming: once you know how, you never forget it.

One old gentleman who hadn't been on skates for 45 years turned out a few months ago, stood up a little gingerly, then skated away as though he were a professional.

It takes only four or five times out for a novice to become accomplished enough so he can handle himself gracefully. Inevitable mark of a novice: One who constantly watches his feet.

Men usually learn skating faster than women, principally because they're not afraid to go out on the floor and rough it. Feminine novices are better sports about the thing, however, and a few of the women seem embarrassed by their frequent flops.

Spills are frequent at the skating rink, but injuries are scarce. Only casualties in three years: Two youngsters who broke arms. Floor rules strictly forbid speeding, roughhousing or tripping, and ruffians frequently are ejected from the rink. Ejections are becoming more scarce, however, since word has been passed around that recklessness won't be tolerated.

Tendency of speeding to develop on roughneck skaters is the biggest reason why no races have been sponsored by the local skating rink. The management does conduct an occasional professional figure-skating demonstration, though.

Just as in any kind of athletics, a lot of amateur skaters become grandstanders, particularly when they bring the girl friend. School-boys sometimes are chagrined when they end their act, discover their companions are better skaters than they themselves.

Revival of skating is just a fad, not a new and lasting sport. Byrd isn't fooling himself about that. Since he's been here, the rink has had its ups and downs, since many

PHILADELPHIA. — "Colonel" Smith reached the ripe old age of 21 years today and his spokesman, Mrs. Della Smith, ventured the opinion that his wholesome diet and regular habits had a lot to do with his long life.

The diet: Three pounds of raw beef a week, and an occasional helping of turkey or duck.

OKLAHOMA CITY.—Postmaster Joe Morris wishes housewives would toss in the towel.

Chain postcards of the Fancy Dish Towel club circulating here ask receivers to send a towel to the top name of a list of three, add their own and send three copies to friends. Theoretically, in roll 27 towels.

GOOD SAMARITAN

KENOSHA, Wis.—Deputy Sheriff James Marshall took Harold Dickman, 20, a prisoner in his jail, to a Racine hospital where Dickman's son, 2½ years old, was ill with pneumonia.

A blood transfusion was necessary, but the young father collapsed before physicians could take a sample of his blood. Whereupon the deputy sheriff provided the blood, and then took his prisoner back to jail.

PARKERS IN COURT

Overtime parkers held the stage practically all day yesterday in Santa Ana city court. Eighteen $1 fines were collected by Judge J. G. Milner, four of them from Nellie J. Sumner, Santa Ana, and five from Orlyn N. Robertson, Santa Ana.

Of the customers turn out two or three nights a week for a month or so, then stop for a few months before renewing their interest.

Biggest crowd he ever had on the floor at once: 500 people, including one party numbering nearly 300. Most big parties charter the floor for an entire evening, usually Mondays, and some schools and churches rent the hall for afternoon parties.

Parties bring out the biggest number of novices, though about 35 per cent of any average skating crowd have never attempted the sport before.

Many newcomers to the skating rink are people who came from icy climates, are spending their first winter in Santa Ana and choose roller skating as second best to ice-skating, for which they have to travel too far. Ice-skaters aren't necessarily much good on wheels, however, because the two sports require a different technique, proficiency in different muscles.

Most local skaters rent their equipment at the rink, which has a stock of around 600 pairs of skates. A few bring their own, park them at the rink until they come again.

Santa Anans' feet are smaller than in most places. Byrd insists it's so, because he's never found anyone here with feet too big to fit, though he used to run across quite a number when he ran a rink in northern California.

NEW STATE
OIL FIELD
DISCOVERED

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—A Standard Oil drilling crew wrote a new chapter in the long story of California oil fields exploration with completion of a well near Bakersfield, now listed as "a new field."

Drilling on the Kern County Land company area about eight miles west of Bakersfield and two miles east of the Shell Oil company's Ten Section field, the crew hit oil sand at first believed to be an extension of the Shell discovery of 1936.

Put on test last week, the well flowed 243 barrels of 26.1 gravity oil and 400,000 cubic feet of gas a day from 8072 feet. Differences in producing conditions, oil, gas pressure and geologic conditions led the Standard geologists to call it a new field, which they named the Canfield Ranch field.

No announcement of the new field was made, and the first public intimation came today when the weekly drilling report carried the name of the new field for the first time. Previously the report had listed the well as in the Greeley area, where Standard has completed a number of profitable wells.

Dr. Pierce has been a Baptist minister since 1894 and is now pastor of the Lake Harriet church in Minneapolis. He has been active in a great variety of missionary and benevolent enterprises under Baptist control.

He has served as a trustee of the Minnesota Baptist State convention, of the Watchman-Examiner foundation, Sioux Falls college, Northwestern Bible and Missionary training school, at Minneapolis, and of the Minnesota Council of Religious Education, a member of the Board of Managers of the American Baptist Foreign mission society, and member of the Board of Missionary cooperation of the Northern Baptist convention and of its successor, the council on Finance and Promotion.

The Rev. Mrs. Stanley McPherson will preach the sermon, and the series of revival services will be concluded on Sunday evening with a sermon by the Rev. Mr. McPherson on the "Unpardonable Sin." The streamlined General Welfare Act of 1938, or proposed amendments to H. R. 4199, will be the subject of an address this evening by Herbert F. Kenny at the meeting of Santa Ana General Welfare assembly. The meeting will be held in the Unitarian church, Eighth and Bush streets, at 7:30. Frank Kendall, president of that local unit, announces that the discussion will cover all phases of the controversy relative to the efforts of Congressman Harry R. Sheppard to get some kind of pension legislation through this session of congress, even though it means some modification in the original Townsend Plan. The public is invited.

HOUSING LACK DEPLORED BY GOODCELL

Scores of desirable families fail to locate in Santa Ana every month owing to the present housing shortage, according to Ray Goodcell, president of the local real estate board.

"Owners of vacant lots would do well to build on them," Goodcell believes. "Paying taxes on non-income producing property is poor business. If unable to build, owners of vacant lots should sell at the present market price, take their losses if necessary, and reinvest in improved and more profitable real estate."

Goodcell points out that failure to provide additional rental property means that "we lose a large number of would-be residents, potential customers and tax payers, contributors to our churches and other institutions, who move on to help build other communities. And this occurs all because we do not supply sufficient living quarters for them."

"By building modern homes and apartments, the prevailing rentals will give a net income that is attractive. Besides, there is the likelihood of higher prices," Goodcell says.

America Suffering
'Growing Pains'

Declaring the American civilization is suffering from "growing pains" rather than "decay," Dr. David Henley, professor of economics and sociology at Whittier college today spoke briefly to the Santa Ana Kiwanis club on background of the western civilization.

"It is inevitable, as society grows up, that the political and economic orders will be brought closer together," Dr. Henley said. "A new problem is to fit people into society, not to run away from it, as we were able to do when we still had frontiers to which we could run. Rather than producing a rabble, we must produce people who can grow into a society of free men and women."

Dr. Henley was introduced by H. Gilbert Nelson, principal at Lathrop junior high school and chairman of the day. President Maurice Enderle conducted the meeting, held at Masonic Temple.

Three Injured In Auto Accidents

An elderly woman pedestrian was critically hurt in an auto accident today on Fifth street, and two persons were slightly hurt in another crash a few minutes earlier at Santa Ana's 1938 traffic toll continued to soar.

Mrs. Minnie McLelland, 67, 1501 Duran street, was struck and killed by a car which struck the woman. John Stanton, 45, Tustin, and Francis Dunn, 1050 West First street, drivers of two cars which collided at Bush and Twentieth streets at 5:21 p. m. yesterday, both sustained minor cuts and bruises.

County Takes Loss
On Old Postcards

Out of the cellar at the courthouse today came the ghost of 2550 postcards, 25 years old, to haunt County Clerk B. J. Smith.

Smith found the cards, used for acknowledging cancellation affidavits from other counties, were out of date. He took them to the postoffice, and found he couldn't get cash. Uncle Sam, however, redeemed the cards at three-quarters of a cent each, and Smith got $19.12 worth of stamps.

After puzzling over the book-keeping for some time, the slightly befuddled clerk got a resolution from the board of supervisors, instructing him to do just what he already had done. Now his office can use the stamps.

ESTIMATES
BASED ON SALES TAXOrange Among Top
12 Counties in 1937

Fifty million dollars was spent in Orange county during 1937 on retail goods other than gasoline and groceries. This money bought clothing, automobiles, building materials, farm implements, tobacco, beverages—in fact everything taxable by the State board of Equalization.

Orange county is among the top dozen counties in the state in retail sales for 1937, according to figures released by the board today, judging from taxes paid during the quarter July, August and September, 1937.

TAX $362,369

Sales and use tax yield in Orange county for this period was $362,369.00. As this is based upon three per cent of the retail sales made, total volume of business represented amounted to $12,078,978. for the quarter. Particulars on the Christmas business for 1937 are not available at this time, according to Tom Taylor, in charge of the local tax office. He estimates, however, collections for the fourth quarter would round out this county's part of the tax to $5,500,000 for the year, indicative of $50,000,000 in retail sales.

Los Angeles county during the third quarter of 1937 paid 42 per cent of the sales and use tax revenue in the state, or $9,817,270. This reflects a retail business of $327,242,362, or better than a billion dollars annually.

STORE SALES 40 PER CENT

Forty per cent of the total revenue raised in the state comes from sales on goods at department, clothing and variety stores and motor vehicles and accessory sales places.

Next largest amount of taxable merchandise demanded by Californians are building materials, hardware and farm implements or 13 per cent of the total of all taxable goods bought.

Of the 58 counties in California, only the following ten led Orange in retail sales for the third quarter in 1937: Los Angeles, San Francisco, Alameda, San Diego, Sacramento, Fresno, Santa Clara, San Luis Obispo, Kern, San Bernardino.

INCREASE NOTED

A 13 per cent increase in retail sales in Orange, San Bernardino and Riverside counties was noted by the board during the third quarter of 1937 over a corresponding period in 1936.

Retail purchases of groceries and gasoline in Orange county, are not known by the board as these commodities are not taxed by this division.

NAZIS ADOPTING OLD WORSHIP

BERLIN. (American Wire) — Germans are adopting ancestor worship similar to that practiced by the Japanese and Chinese. In Mecklenburg, center of neopagan experimentation, following orders of the head of the Nationalist Socialist party, unused chapels are being transformed into "ancestral halls." These will contain ancestral tablets, inscribed with the names and symbols of families in the vicinity.

The report showed present drilled reserves were estimated to be capable of supplying demand until November, 1941.

Dr. M. M. Leighton, chief of the Illinois Geological survey, challenged the estimate that annual U. S. consumption would increase from its current 1,200,000,000-barrel figure to around 2,200,000,800 barrels in 1957. He asserted many factors, including depression periods and development of the Diesel engine, might change the picture.

NICHOLAS HORTHY...
Strange as it seems, for 20 years Hungary, a kingdom, has existed without any king. The head of the government for the past 18 years has been Admiral Nicholas Horthy, regent.

No greater political turmoil ever existed than that in Hungary during the closing years of the World War. Charles IV, emperor of Austria and king of Hungary and last of the Hapsburg rulers, abdicated on Nov. 13, 1918. Three days later the National Council proclaimed the "Hungarian People's Republic" and dissolved both houses of parliament.

The time was ripe for Bela Kun, a Jewish insurance agent with Soviet sentiments, to enter Hungary from Russia on a forged passport and act as "rabble-rouser" for the Bolshevik party. On March 22, 1919, the provisional presidency of Michael Karolyi was overthrown by Kun's faction, with himself as commissary of foreign affairs and ruler in fact.

An opposition government was quickly set up, however, and with the aid of the Rumanian army, ousted the Soviet leaders. In 1920 the link with Austria was formally dissolved and Admiral Nicholas Horthy de Nagybanya, commander-in-chief of Hungary's national forces, was elected regent, March 1.

A Practical Fantasy

If quickly said and pondered little, the proposal of Mr. Henry Ford for the solution of this nation's economic ills through utilization of its waste products, seems almost fantastic.

"The time is virtually here," said Ford, "when almost an entire automobile—body, fenders, doors and paneling—may be constructed out of wheat chaff, soy beans, corn husks or other farm by-products."

A new cheap tractor, he believes, may constitute the item that will balance the ledger for the American farmer.

Instead of "restrict and plow under" as a national slogan, Ford would substitute "produce more and utilize all."

"And I'll put this thing over if it's the life of me," said he.

Fantastic? It might even seem so, coming from anyone else than the American who has done the greatest job of organization, co-ordination and production through private initiative ever done in the world—or ever likely to be done.

From Henry Ford the suggestion is filled with meaning, alive with possibilities, golden with opportunity.

Some such simple plan—its heart and core founded on use, not dis-use, of our great resources—will ultimately "unlock the door we howl without."

A Woman's View

"A healthy emphasis upon American traditions and ideals should be taught in our schools, along with a respect for our flag and our democratic way of life."

That is the opinion of Mrs. Irving Fisher of Seattle, who is high in the councils of the Parent-Teacher association in the northwest.

Mrs. Fisher is to be commended for particularly stressing a need for straight thinking in the schools of America.

The three great factors in the moulding of a child's life are his home, his school and his church. There is little danger of un-Americanism in our churches, so it is in home and school that occasional seeds of radicalism are sown.

If a boy or girl has a good father and mother, and passes through the hands of a series of intelligent and sympathetic teachers, your youngster will probably grow up to be a pretty good citizen.

Mrs. Fisher's definition of the school's part in promoting Americanism hits the nail right on the head.

Insurance Problem

There's a new educational theory running sua rosa through the halls of learning in this country, to-wit: That higher education should be on a more selective basis, that there should be a sort of an aristocracy of education.
Harvard's new President Conant, among others, subscribes to this theory.

"How can we construct a scheme of life in which social change can be accomplished peacefully, without recourse to the violence of war and revolution into which our instincts repeatedly lead us?" This question was recently put before a Princeton freshman class.

An eastern editor answered the question thus: "A thoroughly informed majority opinion would never try to achieve its ends by violence for the simple reason that it would know they cannot be achieved that way."

And that, it seems to us, is also a pretty fair answer to any question relating to selective education.

Your Chance To Help Tonight

Hundreds of Orange county and Santa Ana citizens will enlist tonight in the national war against infantile paralysis when a county-wide dance featuring radio and movie stars is held at the Valencia ballroom.

The dance is being held in connection with a series of over 12,000 celebrations in the 48 states, observing President Roosevelt's birthday Saturday.

These celebrations will constitute this country's greatest mass attack on what has been called the "maiming death."

Money raised at the Orange county dance will be used for scientific research, epidemic first aid, proper distribution of knowledge to parents and doctors regarding the disease, and for orthopedic centers, hospitals and clinics for combatting human wreckage.

Go to the dance tonight. Your 50 cents admission will go to a good cause and you will have a good time.

Will Hays says the movies have been a boon to America. So they have, and also something of a boon to Will Hays.

Exclusive and How

A New York columnist reports that his city's "most exclusive" restaurant, The Colony, allows well-behaved small dogs at the tables.

Now there may be the recipe for making an eating place "exclusive."

The management may by degrees make it more and more "exclusive" by allowing larger and ever larger well-behaved dogs places at its tables.

It is perfectly possible for a human being to have a high regard for dogs and still not wish to break bread with them in a public restaurant.

Already The Colony has, with its small-dog policy, achieved a degree of exclusiveness sufficient to make the great majority look elsewhere for their food.

Supervisor West is still making news, and The Journal is still printing it.

FAIR Enough

Sad Plight
Of Mister
Chez Capone

By Westbrook
Pegler

They were doing a big business
the other night in Chez Capone, the swank rendezvous of people who really matter, when suddenly a man left the bar, walked back to the orchestra, interrupted the music and said to the leader:—"Hey, wait a minute! Hold still a minute!"

"Well, what's with you?" the leader demanded.

"Nothing's with me," said the man. "I'm all right. I'm strictly all right, friend, but what's with that drummer of yours?"

"Nothing is with that drummer.
He has got a card. He is union.
Show him your card, Wallie."

The drummer showed his card.

"Drummer's card," said the man. "All right for drumming the snare drum. But what's he doing socking that brass?" You got to put on another man to sock that."

"A whole guy we got to put on just to sock that brass?"

"You heard me, and I got a guy outside."

Mr. Chez Capone, the propie-tor, thought fast, and decided to put on the extra man to sock the brass thing rather than have pickets around the plant, and maybe have his waiters jerked out in the midst of a big night's business.

So the sock-brass guy climbed into the stand, the agent of the Musicians went back to the bar and things resumed.

AGENT WARMS UP

A few minutes later the agent's ears went up, lifting his hat two inches off his head. He strode back to the orchestra again shouting, "Now what's with that drummer?"

"I tell you nothing is with that drummer," the leader said. "He didn't sock that brass, your sock-brass guy done it. Hey, sock-brass, didn't you sock that brass gag?"

"Who said anything about brass?" the agent yelled. "That drummer whanged that triangle.
Why haven't you got a trianglewhanger in your line-up?"

"You mean I got to have a whole guy to whang that dinky little triangle a few times a night?"
To hell with it! Mollie, don't whang that gag no more. We will just cut it out of the orchestra."

"You do and we jerk you out of here so fast you trample yourself in the rush," the guy said.
"You will use a full crew or no crew."

So the agent put a trianglewhanger upon the stand and things went along all right until the agent heard a couple of those Cuban gourd with the birdshot in them. It was the drummer in dutch again. His card didn't permit him to shake those gourds, and the agent wouldn't leave till they put on another guy. The orchestra platform was getting crowded, and it was still more crowded when the agent caught the drummer kicking the trap for the big drum, and put in a big drum trap-kicker to do that.

DANCERS CROWDED OUT

Well, as the night wore on the agent made life more and more miserable for the leader and Mr.
Chez Capone. He put on a guy to play hoofbeats with the coconuts, a guy to play the block and another one to swish that wire egg-beater thing. He put in another to play the sandpaper thing, and still another to clank the cow-bell—all jobs formerly performed by the drummer in his spare time.
He put in a man to play the boat whistle and another to blow the rubber raspberry gag, and every time the poor drummer would reach for one of his accustomed gags to give it a little sock or twirl or blow the agent would shove through the Chez Capone, bouncing the customers to put another hand to work.

The orchestra overflowed the platform and spread all over the dance floor and up and down the room, and all but eight were new hands brought in by the agent to assist the drummer under the full-crew rules of the union.

Ordinarily the Chez Capone doesn't close until 4 a. m., but at a quarter of one Chez Capone took a look around the plant and clapped his hands.

"All right," he said. "Turn up the tables and turn out the lights.
We got a full crew at the drums
but no room left for customers.
Here's the key and here's the license and the lease, and here's my regards to the union," with which he seized the raspberry gag from the raspberry gag player and blew a long and vulgar note.

Judge Stump

Dear Judge: Has anyone ever discovered which cat it was that "curiosity killed?" K. I. T.

No, but authorities agree that it had started investigating the report that cats have nine lives.

EVERYDAY MOVIES

"My wife keeps tellin' me to keep practisin'. But when she's out in front she can't distinguish me from any of the others."

Twenty-Five Years Ago

JAN. 27, 1913

Frank Clapp barely escaped death yesterday when he backed his automobile out of the garage at the Santa Ana Vulcanizing works on West Fourth street and ran in front of a Pacific Electric car. The car was almost completely wrecked.

An unidentified tramp was run over and killed by a Santa Fe train some time last night near the bridge between Orange and Anaheim. The body was seen in the railroad's right-of-way this morning, and it was not known which train killed the man.

The Santa Ana Farmer's club, meeting at the C. F. Bennett home on Tustin avenue, last night sent a telegram to Senator John D.
Works in Washington requesting that inspections of all citrus fruit be made in packing houses before shipment to insure against shipping of frozen fruit.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Claus A.
and Rudolph Spreckels and Mrs.
Emma Ferris today were denied an accounting of the $14,000,000 their late father, Claus Spreckels, turned over to John D. and Adolph Spreckels during his lifetime in a superior court ruling.

WASHINGTON.—Confidential
reports that the Japanese are building two 46,000-ton battleships carrying 18-inch guns, have
the navy department worried.

It is not the tonnage of the battleships which causes the worry,
but the size of the guns. Biggest guns on American vessels will be 16-inch. The 18-inch gun has a longer range and can get through thicker armor plate. At a fixed range it has 1000 cubic feet more penetration.

The proposed new battleships of the American navy are to be around 37,500 tons with 16-inch guns. Larger battleships are difficult to get through the Panama canal, and until the canal is widened, it is doubtful whether we will ever build ships over 40,000 tons.

And it takes tonnage to carry big guns. The recoil of a big gun on too small a ship rocks it over
in the water.

How to meet the Japanese challenge of the 18-inch gun is now under confidential discussion between the American and British admirals.

PECORA FOR U. S.
SUPREME COURT

With another vacancy imminent
on the supreme court, Roosevelt advisers are for the appointment of Judge Ferdinand Pecora of the supreme court of New York.

Pecora came into the spotlight as head of the sensational stock investigation, during which he showed up
the powerful J. P. Morgan firm for income tax dodging and laid
the ground work for creation of the securities and exchange commission, of which he later became a member. Pecora is of Italian descent, an ardent New Dealer and one of the most eminent jurors of
New York.

Note Cardozo, whose place
Pecora would fill, is of Portuguese descent—his great uncle having been the rabbi who helped administer the oath to George Washington when he became the first president of the United States.

HONEST EIGHT

Out of 96 senators and 435 representatives, only eight refused
the fat little graft of mileage allowance for supposedly traveling home between the two sessions of congress.

What makes it a graft is that in most cases they got paid for travel without traveling—at the rate of 20 cents a mile round trip.

For members living on the west coast, this was a bonus of between $1000 and $1200, since very few of them made the trip.

Here are the eight who turned
the money back to the treasury:
Sen. Morris Sheppard, Texas,
$487.

Rep. Brooks Fletcher, Ohio,
$242.

J. Walter Lambeth, North
Carolina, $123.

Rep. David J. Lewis, Maryland,
$61.

Rep. William R. Thom, Ohio,
$162.

Rep. Lloyd Thurston, Iowa, $503.

Rep. William B. Umstead, North
Carolina, $135.

Professor—Dressing rooms! Those are the college buildings.

By DENYS WORTMAN

Rep. Merlin Hull, Wisconsin, $417.

Note—The above members are trying to avoid publicity, afraid they will be accused of assuming a moral superiority over their colleagues.

ROOSEVELT ASSISTANT

Jimmy Roosevelt's wealthy friends are due for a surprise when they peek into the background of his new White House assistant.

The President's eldest son and secretary has chosen as his personal lieutenant, 30-year-old James
M. Rowe, one-time secretary to the late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes and one of the authors of the holding company act. Rowe gave up a job in the legal division
of the securities and exchange commission to go to work for Jimmy.

Young Rowe's father is a prominent political figure in Montana and a close friend of Frank
C. Walker, former head of the national emergency council. Unlike his son, the elder Rowe is very conservative and disapproves of many New Deal policies.

Young Rowe, an honor graduate of Harvard law school, is rated
as one of the ablest legal minds in the administration.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

The senate filibuster against the anti-lynching bill is costing the tax-payer about $9000 a day. This is figuring salaries of senators, clerks, and so on, and the general
 upkeep of the senate. A Virgin Island rum, made by a government corporation, is having a good sale
in Alaska. Also it led all other rums in sales in New York City.

Despite general opposition to buying goods from Japan, someone slipped an item into the new tax bill reducing the tariff on perilla seed and other seeds largely produced in Japan's conquered
Manchukuo. This hits at the American flaxseed grower, also at Cordell Hull's Good Neighbor plan of buying these seeds from South America.

Howdy, folks.

European diplomats blame
Uncle Sam for the failure of the League of Nations. When better bucks are passed, European diplomats will pass them.

WINTER SPORTS NOTE

Skis must hate each other. The minute you put them on, they try to get as far away from each other as possible.

We see an advertisement of an adding machine that will count up to a billion dollars, but personally all we need is one that will count up to $10.

"How did you get to know your second husband?"

"Oh, it was most romantic. He ran over my first in his car."

A radio in every room of a hotel is fine, but a radio in every other room is better, especially if yours is the room that has it, because then the neighbors in adjoining rooms can't hear them.

Rep. Brooks Fletcher, Ohio,
$242.

J. Walter Lambeth, North
Carolina, $123.

Rep. David J. Lewis, Maryland,
$61.

Rep. William R. Thom, Ohio,
$162.

Rep. Lloyd Thurston, Iowa, $503.

Rep. William B. Umstead, North
Carolina, $135.

The Merry-Go-Round

Navy Uneasy at Report That Japan Is Making 18-Inch Warship Guns; Giant Sea Rifles With Vaster Power Would Rock
Our Smaller Ships; Non-Traveling Solons Accuse Fiat Graft in Unusual Holiday Mileage; Liberals Rap Morgenthau for Asserted Wall Street Tax Rate Slash.

WASHINGTON.—Confidential
reports that the Japanese are building two 46,000-ton battleships carrying 18-inch guns, have
the navy department worried.

It is not the tonnage of the bat-
tleships which causes the worry,
but the size of the guns. Biggest guns on American vessels will be 16-inch. The 18-inch gun has a longer range and can get through thicker armor plate. At a fixed range it has 1000 cubic feet more
penetration.

The proposed new battleships of
the American navy are to be around 37,500 tons with 16-inch guns. Larger battleships are difficult to get through the Panama canal, and until the canal is widened, it is doubtful whether we will ever build ships over 40,000
tons.

And it takes tonnage to carry
big guns. The recoil of a big gun
on too small a ship rocks it over
in the water.

How to meet the Japanese challenge of the 18-inch gun is now
under confidential discussion between the American and British admirals.

PECORA FOR U. S.
SUPREME COURT

With another vacancy imminent
on the supreme court, Roosevelt
advisers are for the appointment of Judge Ferdinand Pecora of the supreme court of New York.

Pecora came into the spotlight as head of the sensational stock investigation, during which he showed up
the powerful J. P. Morgan firm
for income tax dodging and laid
the ground work for creation of the securities and exchange commission, of which he later became a member. Pecora is of Italian descent, an ardent New Dealer and one of the most eminent jurors of
New York.

Note Cardozo, whose place
Pecora would fill, is of Portuguese
descent—his great uncle having
been the rabbi who helped administer the oath to George Washington when he became the first president of the United States.

HONEST EIGHT

Out of 96 senators and 435 representatives, only eight refused
the fat little graft of mileage allowance for supposedly traveling home between the two sessions of congress.

What makes it a graft is that
in most cases they got paid for travel without traveling—at the rate of 20 cents a mile round trip.

For members living on the west
coast, this was a bonus of between $1000 and $1200, since very few
of them made the trip.

Here are the eight who turned
the money back to the treasury:
Sen. Morris Sheppard, Texas,
$487.

Rep. Brooks Fletcher, Ohio,
$242.

J. Walter Lambeth, North
Carolina, $123.

Rep. David J. Lewis, Maryland,
$61.

Rep. William R. Thom, Ohio,
$162.

Rep. Lloyd Thurston, Iowa, $503.

Rep. William B. Umstead, North
Carolina, $135.

ROOSEVELT ASSISTANT

Jimmy Roosevelt's wealthy
friends are due for a surprise when they peek into the background of his new White House assistant.

The President's eldest son and
secretary has chosen as his personal lieutenant, 30-year-old James
M. Rowe, one-time secretary to the late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes and one of the authors of the holding company act. Rowe
gave up a job in the legal division
of the securities and exchange commission to go to work for Jimmy.

Young Rowe's father is a prominent political figure in Montana and a close friend of Frank
C. Walker, former head of the national emergency council. Unlike his son, the elder Rowe is very conservative and disapproves of many New Deal policies.

Young Rowe, an honor graduate
of Harvard law school, is rated
as one of the ablest legal minds in the administration.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

The senate filibuster against the anti-lynching bill is costing the tax-payer about $9000 a day. This is figuring salaries of senators,
clerks, and so on, and the general
 upkeep of the senate. A Virgin Island rum, made by a government
corporation, is having a good sale
in Alaska. Also it led all other
rums in sales in New York City.

Despite general opposition to buying goods from Japan, someone slipped an item into the new
tax bill reducing the tariff on perilla seed and other seeds largely produced in Japan's conquered Manchukuo. This hits at the
